Joe Vasquez

Freelance Video Cameraman

With over 15 years in video production, Joe Vasquez began as an editor in Houston, Texas, and has become known as one of the premier news and network video cameramen based in Houston. Beginning his camera career in news, Joe has developed lighting skills and technical style to successfully shoot the variety of project types from corporate communications, to reality tv, or sports coverage.

Working with producers and directors locally and traveling throughout the world, he has won a regional Emmy and other awards for his work. He is known for the quality and care he gives each project, and the positive can-do attitude that is so crucial to the production industry.

Clients include all of the major networks, as well as many Fortune 500 companies, and other major corporations. Joe's knowledge of a broad variety of video cameras includes most Sony and Ikegami cameras, including HD, DigiBeta, BetaSP, and Mini DV formats.
